Rabbi Zohn is considered to be one of the foremost experts on all aspects relating to practical and religious procedures of Jewish burial preparation, including expertise in cemetery law and funeral home standards, laws, and practices. He has lectured extensively throughout the United States to Jewish leaders, Chevros Kadisha, health care and hospital personnel and synagogue and community groups, including the general public.

This program has been funded by HOC Sisterhood,
Sinai Synagogue, and generous donors from the community.

Refreshments will be served after the presentation.
